TALLAHASSEE VS. STETSON.

An Exceptionally Fine Game Ending 3 to 2 for F. S. C.—A Reception Tendered.

As the score shows, the game was a hot one, and was not settled until the last man was out, and Stetson made her two runs with two men down.

The teams both played good ball, but for a few errors on the part of our boys they would have changed the score.

Little Hall played his usual good game unusually well, and McCarty, Stetson's pitcher, did noble service to the team. He struck out thirteen men to Chappel's ten, and only allowed them to get four hits.

The Stetson line-up was as follows:

Pounds, c.
McCarty, p.
E. Hall, 1st.
Hall, 2nd.
Botts, s. s.
F. Pounds, 3rd.
Pelot, r. f.
Mickle, c. f.
Mickle, l. f.

Tuesday evening, the 15th, after the game, the F. S. C. fellows were given an informal reception in the parlors of Chaudoin. The guests were entertained with music and songs, and later refreshments were served.

PRINCE OTTO.

Presentation of College Play a Grand Success—Great Crowd Filled Auditorium.

On Friday evening, March 18th, the last entertainment of the Lyceum course was given. The "college play" is always an attraction, and this year the largest audience of the season gathered to witness the performance of "Prince Otto." This play, the dramatization of Stevenson's novel, is by far the most difficult which has been attempted, and that it was a great success is a high tribute to the ability of the actors and training of Prof. Daghistan, not to mention the tireless work of the manager, Prof. Baldwin.

The acting throughout was spirited and well sustained, so that, although the play lasted three hours, the audience showed no signs of weariness. Mr. Reamy made a very attractive Prince, and won our sympathies from the start by his sunny personality. Many compliments were heard for the acting of Miss Remmers, who brought out very clearly the gracious dignity and high ideals of the Princess Seraphena. This was a hard role, especially in the scene of the stabbing, which might so easily have been made a burlesque by superficial acting. Gondremark and the Princess, however, both seemed intensely in earnest, so that the scene was really tragic. Miss Rich made a captivating Countess. We could not help admiring her despite her intriguing ways. The character of the prime minister, treacherous, cold and ambitious, was well interpreted by Prof. Landis, who fairly made us shiver with dread at his plots against the Prince and Princess. The simple hearted chancellor with his frantic care for his young and giddy wife; and loyal Dr. Wallenhof, with his kindly voice and remarkable whiskers, were both interesting characters.

As a foil to the intriguing court life, the simple heartedness of the peasants was very refreshing. Mr. Mickle and Mr. Lofberg made surprisingly natural farmers, and Minna, with her black braid and bobbing courtesies, was charming.

As an important accessory to the success of the play we must not omit to mention the scenery. To produce successfully a peasant's cottage, castle salon, council chamber, state apartment and stairway upon the chapel platform was no easy task. But with Prof. Sharp to paint and Prof. Baldwin to superintend, wonders were accomplished, so that the setting of the scenes was effective and realistic to a surprising degree. The court scene with the beautiful gowns of the ladies, and the artistic grouping, was one of the prettiest of the evening.

Altogether we feel very proud of our star performers and their work, and heartily say "Amen" to all of Prof. Baldwin's neat little curtain speech.

Stetson Literary Society.

The program for tonight is as follows:

Current Events—Mr. Walker.
Recitation—Miss Hampton.
Extempore—
Oration—Mr. Waterman.
Parliamentary Practice—Mr. Sparkman.

Debate—Resolved, That the present naval policy regarding increase of navy is for best interest of our country. Affirmative, Botts and Allen; negative, Leitner and Carlton.

The last two meetings of the society have not been particularly lively, but still far from dead. The club we believe is passing through a trying ordeal just at present, and when the crisis is past it must either go up or down. The signs of the times are all directed to the former outcome, and we prophesy an excellent career for the society next year.

The mere fact that it could send out debaters so well equipped as it did, shows that the society has become a power among the students.

Last week's program was quite interesting. Current Events, by Mr. Sparkman, extempore by Mr. Bostick, a parliamentary practice conducted by Mr. Leitner.

The debate was short but effective, and purely extemporaneous. For subject was chosen the tariff question. The Democrats won the day, according to the judges' report.

After the meeting the society, in response to an invitation from the Kent Club, arose to higher scenes and joined the Laws in celebrating the close of the winter term. Delicious "light" refreshments were "set up" by the chivalrous embryo judges, and both societies enjoyed themselves immensely. The slight of hand tricks of Mr. E. L. Powe were especially enjoyed, as was the speech of Mr. Walker, the newly elected president of the literary society.

The other officers elected that night were: Vice-president, Stanley Moffatt; secretary-treasurer, Miss Hampton; critic, Miss Remmers.

There seems to be a feeling among some of the society that the Phi Kappa Sigma society is taking valuable men from them and thus impoverishing the club. It ought to be easy enough to counteract this evil. There are certainly enough students in the school to run both societies, and competition is everyfiling. The Lits may be roused to more active enthusiasm.

Y. M. C. A.

Thursday evening, the 18th, the meeting was led by Mr. D. J. Blocker. He chose for the topic the Good Samaritan. This topic, always fruitful of thought and ideas, was interestingly and feelingly discussed.

Thursday evening last Mr. I. F. Waterman took from the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew the parable of the talents for the topic. Mr. Waterman makes a good leader and one of the most interesting meetings of the year ensued upon his brief and pointed discussion of his Scripture reading.

There was an improved attendance and much interest manifested.

The time for election of officers has returned, and the nominating committee was appointed by President Staley to report next Thursday night. The committee consists of Messrs. Fee, Woodward and Pounds.

Let every Christian boy and right minded man come out next Thursday night prepared to discuss the highest issues of our college experience and give a new impetus to this our own organization. Mr. Pounds will lead.

VAN SANT TO LAW CLASS.

Distinguished Minnesota Governor Addresses Law Men of the University.

The law men of the University enjoyed a rare treat yesterday morning in having the opportunity of listening to a talk from Governor Van Sant, of Minnesota, who is in the city on a visit to his brother, Mr. N. G. Van Sant, of the law class of 1904. The Governor spoke in regard to the merger case and urged that there was no law superior to the will of the people. He was listened to attentively and enthusiastically applauded. The law men appreciate having the distinguished statesman with them, and they all seem to be with him and for him in his great fight against the trusts. The Governor is a national character and one of the most prominent men before the eyes of the public today.

Psi. Kappa Sigma.

The Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity has decided to resume its weekly literary sessions which were discontinued last year. The first meeting was held Wednesday evening, and entertaining and instructive talks from several members were listened to. The Phi Kappa Sigmas have among their number some of the strongest debaters and speakers in the University, and their resumption of literary and oratorical work cannot fail to increase interest and activity in these circles.

Picnic at Blue Lake.

Saturday last a delightful picnic was enjoyed at Blue Lake, in honor of the following visiting gentlemen: Mr. Blanding, Mr. Colson, Mr. Calmes and Mr. McElroy. Besides the above those who attended were Mrs. Sears, Miss York, Miss Blanding, Miss Letta Brock, Miss Mabel Brock, Miss Gibson, Messrs. Calhoun, Lofberg and Sears.

BUG HOUSE ENTERTAINS.

Prominent State Officials Honor the Young Men by Their Presence.

Last week, while the candidates for the various State offices were in the city on their "tour of inspection," the Bug House colony, consisting of Messrs. Crawford, Wilson, Fee, Merri-day, Worley and Conover, had the honor of entertaining the following: Hon. Wm. N. Shients, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Hon. H. Clay Crawford, Secretary of State; and Hon. Wm. H. Ellis, Attorney-General. The Bug House boys enjoyed having the statesmen with them, and all being lawyers and therefore prospective politicians, they "picked up" quite a "few things" from those old in the service.

Vespers.

The last two vesper exercises have been conducted by Rev. E. Nelson Blake, of Boston. Sunday, the 13th, he took for his subject, "Loyalty," and last Sunday, "The Christian in the Wrong Place." The talks both times were exceedingly earnest and thoughtful, and no one could help being impressed by the importance of the themes.

The usual excellent music was rendered by the vesper choir. Sunday before last they were assisted by Mr. Roy Brown, whose singing was so much enjoyed last year. This time he delighted the audience with a beautiful solo.

Kent Club Officers.

The following officers were elected by the Kent Club at the meeting Saturday night, to serve for the remainder of the year:

President—Emmett Wilson, of Marlanna.
Vice-president—Silas B. Wright, Jr., of DeLand.
Secretary—Augustus M. Wingood, of Lakeland.
Treasurer—E. L. Powe, of DeLand.
Sergeant-at-Arms—"Sunrise" Smith, of Gainesville.

Picnic at Winnemissett.

Last night a party of jolly picnickers drove to Winnemissett and, after spending the evening in boating and luncheon, came home by delicious moonlight.

Among those in the party were. Mrs. Remmers, Misses Remmers, Winegar, McKinney, Alice McKinney, Mrs. Smith, Messrs. J. Archy Smith, Baldwin and Caine. Shall we say they had a "fine time?" Well, we won't, just to be unconventional.

Y. W. C. A.

The subject of the Y. W. C. A. meeting, Thursday afternoon, was Miss Fanny Crosby and her life and songs. This was Miss Crosby's eighty-fourth birthday, and Miss Palmer made the meeting very interesting. Next week, March 31, there will be an Easter service. Special music being prepared and a very interesting program. Miss Bouchelle is the leader. All the girls are cordially invited to this meeting. thatie hAik.p ashdy JFJKn S..N

Ellas and Lewis Hall left Wednesday for Tampa to be gone for several weeks.

Miss Eunice Chesebro and Miss Gates, of Brooklyn, who have spent the winter at the College Arms, left Thursday for Jacksonville, where they will spend a week before returning to their Northern homes. Mr. Henry Chesebro will leave next Monday.

And you will have that cup as it is?

There was no rehearsal of the college play this past week.

Prepare for the coming oratorical contest. Who will win the prize
this year?

What has become of the inter-collegiate debate between Tallahassee and Stetson? Have the debaters failed to qualify?

If the caterpillar and hot weather continue, as the present outlook seems to show, we will all be glad to be liberated from the limitations of school life.

Another term has come, the last of the present school year. Let's go away this time, with a feeling of "well done," and if we haven't done well, we had better "buckle to" and see that we do. We don't want to have to regret time spent here, when we go home next summer.

We note in the current issue of one of the DeLand papers that the Chicago students have gone back because they could not receive pro rata credit in Chicago for their work here in the spring term. This is a misstatement of the case entirely, for only a few mornings ago Dr. Farriss announced that arrangements had been made for obtaining such credits.

Mr. J. T. G. Crawford, chief clerk in the Department of Justice at Tallahassee, was the guest of his brother, Mr.
W. B. Crawford, of the law department, last week.

Mr. Sylvan McElroy, who has completed his course for the year at the Atlanta Medical College, visited De-Land and the University on his return to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller came over from Orange City Friday, to be present at the performance of "Prince Otto," and while here were the guests of their daughters, the Misses Fuller.

Miss Merry and Miss Ashley left Thursday for Daytona, where until Sunday they will be the guests of Miss Elizabeth Silvernail. Miss Ashley will then leave for her home in Chicago, while Miss Merry will go to Jacksonville.

Miss Ruby Spaulding came over to DeLand to be present at the performance of "Prince Otto" last Friday evening, and returned to Daytona the next day, accompanied by Miss Pearl Spaulding, who will spend this week with her mother, Mrs. Spangler.

The cold wave predicted for last Friday failed to materialize, much to the satisfaction of our orange and peach growers.

From the San Mateo Item.
DOINGS OF THE BACHELOR GIRLS.

Dear Item:—For the sake of a few out-of-town readers, ex-bachelor girls and others who still take an interest in us we, would like to chronicle some of our recent "doings" simply to show that the Bachelor Girls are still holding their own, though Dan Cupid continues to pick one off occasionally with his daring little bow and arrow. The last accident of the kind happened but a short time since, one of our very youngest being the victim.

Your city editor failed to mention
our annual picnic, which took place
March 2nd, at the usual stampingground. The affair was unattended
by the slightest indication of a storm,
which was strictly contrary to custom. Eleven young women were present, the largest number we have had,
and once more we effectually demonstrated the joys of a manless picnic.
When fair Luna joined us we made the jolliest kind of a party, the envy
of all the brownies, fairies, elves, owls, wildcats, panthers and other wood folk in the vicinity. Later we repaired to the house. Moonlight and shadow jostled each other across the lawn, while we listened delightedly to the soft strains of a guitar played by J.
A. Brown and to the mellow tones of his voice as he sang song after song
—plantation melodies, "coon songs," burlesques and parodies. "Dolphus"
possesses a rare gift of impersonation.
We were very much entertained by his humorous bits of mimicry, with which he regaled us between songs.

On Monday afternoon of this week Miss Winsor gave a thimble party for the "old original Bachelors," of whom she is one.

Monday night Mr. and Mrs. G. A.
Turner celebrated the birthday of their son Rob by giving a dance at the V.
I. A. Hall. The Bachelor Girls, who were present, can vouch for the success of the party. A string band, consisting of two violins, bass viol and guitar rendered the best dance music
we have heard in many months.
The decorations were among the finest ever seen at the hall. Cake and lemonade were served. Dancing was

Miss Stella Holton gave a luncheon for Miss Winsor on Wednesday afternoon. On this occasion there were two Bachelor Men to lighten the lump of Bachelor Girl-hood, the two brave ones being Messrs. Bancroft and C.
Holton.

Mr. Allan Holton's absence was most opportune, since we are told that he is something of a woman-hater. We have our doubts on the subject, although really nine young women are enough to intimidate most men. A most pleasant evening was spent at this lovely home, and the young ladies were loth to leave.

Miss Winsor's departure on Friday leaves us sorely missing her, as she is the life of our affairs while she is here.
Our best wishes attend her on her journey, but we cannot refrain from being indignant with that naughty little
"Dan" who has so disturbed the peace
of our little band.

Respectfully yours,
ONE OF THEM.

Some of the wonderful things to be seen at John Olsen's are a magnolia tree about a foot in diameter, that was only an inch thick 18 years ago; another magnolia tree at the front gate is the sixth that has been set there in the attempt to make one live. The lemon tree full of ripe fruit is a pleasant sight worth riding several miles to see. Olsen says this has been the coldest winter we have had in 20 years;
ice has formed at his place six times;
and yet no extreme cold to injure the tenderest citrus tree—in proof of this last assertion he pointed out a lime tree all full of bloom buds as large as bird shot.—New Smyrna Breeze.

The "Play Company" is contemplating a trip to Ormond in the interests of the Athletic Association. If suitable offer is received, they expect to present "Prince Otto" to the tourists sojourning on the beach.

The Orange Industry.

For some years after the big freeze the orange industry seemed almost paralyzed, except in extreme South Florida. It has been gradually reviving and the outlook is bright for those who have persevered, even under great difficulty. As one of the signs of this, read the following from The New Smyrna Breeze:

While vegetable growing is claiming the attention of many people in every section of the State, and to some extent at New Smyrna, orange growing will be the leading industry in this section. We are glad to see that the farmers are producing more stuff at home, not only enough for their own use, but some to sell, but the superiority of the oranges grown in this section, and the great demand for them, will keep this industry in the lead. There was a large increase in the average of orange groves in the year 1903, and there will be a larger number of trees set this year.

The groves in this section are looking fine and some of the prettiest thirteenth young groves to be seen in the State are at New Smyrna. Altogether, the future prospects for the orange industry, not only here, but in every county in the State, are very bright, and we look forward to the time at no distant date, when Florida will be supplying the world with as many oranges as she ever did. And New Smyrna will furnish her share of them.

Biscayne Bay farmers are now shipping one of the finest vegetable crops ever grown in that section. The quality of the tomatoes has never been surpassed.—Orange County Citizen.

Mr. J. A. Conover, of Jacksonville, the well known druggist of that place, is in the city for a few days, visiting his son, George Wyeth Conover.

A jolly party of the younger set drove to Enterprise last Saturday. They were excellently chaperoned by Mr. W. E. Beardsley and Miss Calhoun.

Mr. Robert Stevens, who has been in Ohio for about a year, has returned and will graduate from the academy this year. This swells the ranks of the Benedicts to nineteen. The college senior class has six members, more than ever before, so we'll have quite a group of dignitaries this year.

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. William Stone Taylor gave a most recherche supper party, the guest of honor being Mrs. Taylor's sister, Miss Ruth Winifred Morris. Just before supper Mrs. Taylor formally announced the engagement of Miss Morris to Mr. Harry Marsh Burrows, of Rangeley, Maine. Mrs. Taylor entertained the following guests, with her usual charm and graciousness: Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Wright, Miss Decker, Miss Emery, Miss Meyer, Miss Reeve, Miss Edith Reeve, Miss Gould and Miss Howard.
